Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5,7-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gabriel in view of Aoki et al. (US Patent No. 4,399,731)

Regarding Claims 3,4,13,14,26,27, Gabriel (See especially Figs. 1-3, Col. 7 lines 6-20, Col. 8 lines 37-44, Col. 12) discloses all features claimed but does not explicitly disclose the automatic composition feature, the display features, the microphone and compression features, or the radio features claimed.

Aoki et al. discloses an apparatus for automatically composing a musical piece (See Abstract). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt the Gabriel teachings with those of Aoki, as both inventions are narrowly directed towards the art of musical devices that enable a user to easily and simply compose musical pieces.

With regard to the display, microphone, and compression features, it is noted that these recited features would have been notoriously old and well-known in the art of computer audio and computer audio software. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt the Gabriel/Aoki combination with these teachings, so as to be able to expand the number of audio sources available to the user of the Gabriel/Aoki device.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
